ARMing Heroes Recognizes Top Donors

An editorial by ARming Heroes Board Member Susan Namm

Collingswood, NJ: As you may have seen on insideARM and in other industry media last month, we at ARming Heroes (www.armingheroes.org) recently concluded our second annual No Debts for Vets Charity Fundraising Drive (“the Drive”). As a result of the drive, the credit and collection industry raised more than $27,000 in only a nine-week period starting on September 11th and concluding on Veterans Day, November 11th.

I was blessed to be able to spend Thanksgiving with my family, including my son and his friend, who are both active duty soldiers preparing for another deployment in February. As a family, we gave thanks for their health and offered prayers for their safety and for all of those that have served. In this season of thanksgiving and goodwill, and on behalf of the Board of Trustees of ARming Heroes, I want to extend my gratitude to all those who made contributions to ARming Heroes during our recent fundraising campaign. In a very difficult economy, your generosity exceeded expectations, and will allow us to do more than ever to give back to deserving veterans and their families.

Reading the grant applications we have received only heightened my awareness of the difficulties our servicemen and families contend with. The honor of their sacrifices and their pride and love for our country shines as brightly as the star on the top of the Christmas trees many of us will put up this month.

Why do you do it? MaLisa Langusch, President of Tech Lock (www.techlockinc.com), said it best when she recently told us, “With my father-in-law a Vietnam veteran and my husband a service-disabled veteran, this is a cause that hits home for me and all of Tech Lock’s employees. After sacrificing so much for us, too many veterans return home to face financial and employment challenges.”

Reinforcing this thank you, I would like to recognize our top corporate donors for 2011 by listing them below. Thanks to you and all our other corporate and individual donors, we exceeded our goal! -- Susan Namm, Board of Trustees, ARming Heroes
